

Riverkeeper College Ambassador Program

Become a Riverkeeper Ambassador and help to activate students on your campus to take action for clean water! As a Riverkeeper College Ambassador, you will be trained by Riverkeeper staff to educate your campus community on important initiatives and campaigns, and grow our network of clean water advocates through advocacy, volunteerism and fundraising.

Ambassador Expectations:

- Look for opportunities to tie Riverkeeper's work into campus activism and sustainability efforts, and facilitate introduction;
- Share Riverkeeper events, actions, and internships with student groups, academic programs and residence halls, and help us to promote through social media, posterage, listservs, and networking; and
- Participate in Riverkeeper's formal training program as well as other educational opportunities including webinars with scientific, legal and advocacy experts.

Benefits of Being a Riverkeeper Ambassador:

- Develop a working knowledge of current issues affecting the Hudson
- Learn grassroots organizing skills, advocate for the health of the Hudson River Estuary
- Engage your community on local issues
- Enhance your resume!

Interested in learning more?

Contact Jen Benson, Education and Outreach Coordinator, at jbenson@riverkeeper.org, or at (914) 478-4501 ext. 234

Learn more at http://www.riverkeeper.org/get-involved/volunteer/